

Key statistics

United shot- and goal-shy

57.3%
Possession per game

10.4
Shots per game

Manchester United have averaged the most possession per game in the Premier League this season – 57.3 per cent – but have the fourth fewest shots – 10.4 per match.

Goals

7

Last 9 games

United have scored only seven goals in their last nine games. Four of the last eight have ended 0-0.

West Ham's Old Trafford woes

1
12 games

Wins

8
8 games

West Ham have won only once in 12 trips to Old Trafford – 1-0 with a Carlos Tevez goal in 2007. United have won their last eight home games against them, conceding only three goals.

Hammers' premier scalps

Arsenal (a)
Liverpool (a)
Chelsea (h)
Man City (a)

West Ham have beaten four of last season's top six – Arsenal, Liverpool, Chelsea and Manchester City – already this season, three of them away.

Red Devils' stingy backline

10
in 14 EPL games

United have allowed the fewest shots per league game – 8.8 – and have the division's best defensive record – 10 conceded.

1 in 731
min

United have only conceded once in 731 minutes in open play in all competitions – to Leicester's Jamie Vardy last week.